DESIGN RELATED WORK EXPERIENCE

Week split work experience with a local freelance architect and a Surveyors firm Cumbria (2002)

Self Organised week experience during a school holiday to help aid in my decision as to what career to pursue.

Pandora Signs, Cumbria (2000)

One week work experience during my GCSE'S was spent at this local design and manufacturer of signs. I got involved with the design and layout of signs as well as prototype production.

EMPLOYMENT

Windermere Golf Club, Cumbria (2003 - present)

This was a part time job during university holidays, but once I graduated I worked full time to earn money for travelling. During this time I was also given extra responsibilities including stock ordering and weekly banking.

Jacksons Bistro, Cumbria (2006 – 2007)

In addition to working at the golf club I took on a second job as a waiter and barman at this local restaurant, to aid in earning money for travelling after graduation. I have since stopped working there, as I no longer need two part time jobs.

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

- Travel After graduating from University I had the desire to go and see some of the world. This is why I took the aforementioned jobs allowing me to fund my entire trip. When not at work I planned my itinerary for the travelling that took place in the 3 months between February and April 2007. During this time I managed to visit, Tokyo, Australia, New Zealand and New York. With the exception of Tokyo, I travelled alone. This was a great test of my organisational and communication skills, which I feel has benefited me immensely. The whole experience left me with a new understanding of different cultures, both socially and also in the world of design. I have no doubts that this experience will continuously offer inspiration during my career.
- Photography This art form is something I am becoming increasingly interested in and having purchased a more advanced digital camera for my overseas trip I'm now starting to experiment with more photographic techniques.
- Sports I have always enjoyed sport and have played football, rugby, tennis, table tennis and cricket for both school and local clubs. My main sport however is golf and I have been an active member of Windermere G.C. for 10 years with a current handicap of 13. During this time I have represented the club in the junior team and was selected as Junior Captain in 2003.
- Socialising With any spare time I like to socialise with friends and enjoy listening to music and going to concerts.
